JOE RASO HOSPICE RESIDENCE

The JRHR is the first of its kind in Rockland County. It's located on 11 secluded acres of land in a peaceful setting of streams, woodlands and wildlife. Each resident will have a private room with a bathroom, individual temperature controls, cable TV, telephone, and wireless Internet service. A great room with a fireplace, a large open kitchen, a family room with a large screen TV and quiet areas help make it feel like home. A courtyard and pond-side seating area provide an outdoor respite. Guests are welcome to visit residents at anytime. Overnight accommodations for a family member is available in each resident room. Family pets may visit after clearance by staff.

The JRHR also offers inpatient level of care to individuals requiring more intensive short-term symptom management before returning to their own homes, or who will remain in the residence after their symptoms have been effectively controlled.
